Permits Duty Free export/import of your goods in more than 75 countries

Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce & Industry (FICCI), New Delhi
India's Sole National Issuing and Guaranteeing Association (NIGA) for ATA Carnet system

What is an ATA Carnet?

ATA Carnet is an international Customs document that allows for the temporary importation of goods into a foreign country without having to pay duties or taxes. It is also known as the "Merchandise Passport" and is used for the purposes of exhibitions, fairs, and other similar activities abroad.

The ATA Carnet simplifies customs procedures for temporary exports/imports and eliminates the need for customs bonds, guarantees, and other security measures that would otherwise be required. This makes the process of temporary exporting/importing goods much simpler and more convenient for businesses.

The ATA Carnet system was created by the customs and the chambers of commerce worldwide and is recognized by over 75 countries including India. The carnet simplifies the customs process for temporarily imported goods by providing a single document that serves as a guarantee of payment for duties and taxes, if applicable, in all participating countries.

The initials "ATA" are an acronym of the French and English words for "Admission Temporaire/ Temporary Admission".

In India, ATA Carnets are issued under the guarantee and authority of FICCI.

Who May Use an ATA Carnet?

- Exhibitors and trade show organizers: to transport exhibition goods to and from foreign countries.
- Film and television production companies: to transport equipment and sets for filming abroad.
- Professional and sports equipment users: to transport equipment for competitions, concerts, and shows.
- Researchers and scientific organizations: to transport scientific equipment for research purposes, testing, demonstration & calibration.
- Manufacturers and suppliers: to transport samples and prototypes for trade fairs and exhibitions.

It is important to note that not all countries accept ATA Carnets, and there may be restrictions on the type of goods that can be temporarily imported or exported using this document. Before using an ATA Carnet, it is recommended to verify the requirements and restrictions with the relevant authorities in the country of destination.

Goods Covered:

- Commercial samples: e.g. jewellery, apparel, watches, leather goods, etc.
- Goods for display or use at international exhibitions, trade shows or similar events, such as, various types of products/equipment, antiques, paintings and other works of art, display booths/stands, etc.

Items Excluded from ATA Carnet

- Consumable/disposable items.
- Items intended to be given away.
Such as paint, cleaning materials, food, oils, leaflets and brochures, which are considered as “consumable items” and intended to be given away, disposed of, or utilized abroad, are excluded from the ATA Carnet system as they would not ordinarily be re-exported.
- Items already sold or offered for sale.
- Unmounted gems or gemstones; theatrical make-up, etc.
- Alcoholic beverages, tobacco and fuels, etc.
- Goods intended for processing or repair.

Why Use an ATA Carnet?

The ATA Carnet:

- Simplifies customs procedures.
It allows exporters and business professionals to use a single document for most customs transactions and to make arrangements in advance, at a pre-determined cost, in Indian Rupees. It also eases re-entry into India.
- Reduces business costs. It eliminates the need to pay the duties and taxes or to post the security normally required at the time of importation in all countries visited.
- Saves time and paperwork. It allows for an unlimited number of trips, within the ATA Carnet's one-year window of validity, to any of the countries that are part of the Carnet system without having to re-apply for new documents.

- |             |                         |

| ■ Delhi     | ■ Hyderabad ICD         |
| ■ Mumbai    | ■ Bangalore             |
| ■ Chennai   | ■ ICD Dadri, Noida, UP. |
| ■ Kolkata   | ■ Jaipur                |
| ■ Cochin    | ■ Goa                   |
| ■ Ahmedabad |                         |

Refund of Security deposit:

- Upon completion of the final trip, the original ATA Carnet, including used and unused counterfoils and vouchers, must be returned to FICCI
- To discharge the liability of an ATA carnet, proof of re-exportation/ re-importation of goods covered under it, has to be submitted. It is important to obtain the correct customs verification of entry and exit from each country visited. Failure to do so may well lead to Customs duty and a penalty or tax being imposed.
- Sale of goods under ATA Carnet is not allowed. It is technically a violation of the Carnet agreement. Knowing that this sometimes happens, however, it is advised that the seller, to protect against any subsequent Customs claims by any country, must obtain an itemized receipt specifying that appropriate duties and taxes were paid, eg. Bill of Entry acquitting Carnet. Failure to produce correct evidence will result in non-refund of the security deposit.
- Please note non-fulfillment of discharge obligation of a carnet can cause forfeiture of the security deposit, besides other procedures as per law.

Provided there is no evidence of the carnet entering into dispute, the deposit / bank guarantee will be released as soon as possible.

All the payments have to be made in Indian Rupees.
